FIRE AT PAREL.

DAMAGE ESTIMATED AT RS. 15,000

A big fire broke out on Friday afternoon about 4 o'clock in the Jam Mill, situated at Parel near Lalwadi. One of the operatives of the mill on seeing smoke emanating from the opening room containing loose cotton waste and cotton bales raised an alarm and immediately some of the operatives managed to extend the hose-pipes to the mill-tank. The workmen made frantic efforts to subdue the flames, but as the fire was taking a grave turn, the Fire Brigade was ultimately communicated with, and the Chinchpogli and Byculla Fire engines, arrived on the spot soon.

After the constant play of water for well nigh twenty minutes, the firemen succeeded in bringing the fire under control by about 4-30 p.m. By that time the opening room which is on the first floor of the mill was entirely gutted.

From enquiries made, it appears that the mill belongs to Messrs. Wagji Shamji and Company. The damage to the mill and its contents is roughly estimated at Rs. 15,000. The cause of the fire is not known.

The Calcutta school of Technology affords a course of practical studies well-suited to the requirements of the country the students while being more or less assured of a future calling have the additional advantage of being able to earn their own living while learning. The Principal J. C. Ghosh B.Sc., F.C.S. is a capable man with high University qualifications. The classes open on 6th July 1922. All those who wish to join should apply to the Principal, 127-A Bowbazaar Street, Calcutta.

FRACAS IN A CHAWL.

On the 19th instant at about 9-30 p.m. one Bhikhu Krishna, a hawker in fruits residing on the first floor of a house at Clerk Road returned home when he was alleged to be under the influence of liquor. Hearing people on the ground floor quarrelling he called out to the woman contractor of the chawl saying that because she was bribed she allowed troublesome tenants to remain in the building. The woman told Bhikhu to vacate if he was troubled by other tenants. Bhikhu, it was alleged, abused the woman and sat down to dinner. Whilst he was so occupied four men, it is alleged, entered his room. Bhikhu got up to defend himself and although his mistress tried to prevent them they assaulted him dealing him blows about his body. Suddenly, the light went out and the assailants picked up Bhikhu and threw him out of the window where he lay unconscious till he was removed to the J. J. Hospital. He has been detained for treatment in the hospital.

THE SEAMEN'S STRIKE.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—There is a Seamen's strike in Calcutta, and the strike is for nothing else but to equalize the scale of pay, to that of Bombay. The Bombay seamen or those who sign on in Bombay are paid more than the Calcutta seamen. Both places are in India, and the seamen are all Indians, and the Shipping Companies most of them are the same, and nobody knows why this difference exists. This, one of the Calcutta seamen's grievances, is a long standing one and the Capitalists, in spite of the seamen's asking, begging and grumbling, are protected by the invincible power of the Shipping Brokers, whose duties are to satisfy the Capitalists in order to safeguard their licences and the grievances of the seamen do not concern them. The Union, knowing the corrupt system, in practice, only in India, of recruiting seamen through Brokers and Ghat Sarangs, had advised the seamen caution, but the burden of the heavy cost of living at present, obliged them to go on strike. To combat the strike, crews are being asked to Calcutta from Bombay and already a crew for one of the "City Liners," is on the way towards Calcutta. I ask those that are concerned in the employment of seamen, including the Government and the public at large is this justice to "the poor, illiterate and helpless Calcutta seamen"? What do they ask? They ask only to make them equal with their Bombay co-workers, and brothers. The Capitalists can afford to pay the Bombay seamen, what their Calcutta brothers ask, plus their travelling expenses, to combat the strike, and show their power. Then, why can't they satisfy the grieved ones? We know their power and do not want to dispute about it, but ask to inquire of their conscience, whether this is justice or injustice.—Yours, etc.

A. MAZARELLO.

Bombay, June, 23.

DAR-UL-ULOON PANCHGANI.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Just as last year I had invited all the students and teachers to spend the Id day at Mahabaleshwar. I am glad to inform you that all the 40 boarders seem to have enjoyed the trip. They had a motor drive, then a number of them played cricket and hockey while a few went out riding on the local ponies. Before meals we all assembled in the Hall and after reciting Korane Sheriff, poems were sung in Urdu, Gujarathi Marathi and English after which at the desire of the Principal I requested the Hon. Mr. Gulam Hussein Hedayatulla, one of the guests to distribute prizes to the successful candidates. After distributing the prizes the Hon. Mr. Gulam Hussein in a short speech dwelt on the unique brotherhood of Islam and the importance of knowledge and expressed a hope that from amongst the boys, great traders engineers, politicians, councillors and Ministers would arise and thus this small function ended.

I take this opportunity to lay before the public in short the account of our Dar-ul-uloom as I find many Muslim brothers are unware of it and feel that if it is made known many will take interest in it. In May 1919 a meeting of Muslims was held at Panchgani when it was decided to have a Muslim school there since the existance of one English Boys' school, two English Girls' schools and a Parsee Boys' school had established beyond doubt that a school in so salubrious a climate as that of Panchgani was bound to create both a healthy mind and a healthy body. In 1919 Khan Bahadur Ebrahim Haroon Jaffer and myself started a school at Panchgani.

In October of the same year I requested my friends Seth Haji Eisa and Seth Dada Mia Khandwani to join us and accordingly we four kept the school going on for some time. Then we invited Sir abbas Ali Baig and at the advice of my father also Seth Haji Yoosuf Sobani to help us to constitute this school into an institution on the lines of Aligarh and make it a little Aligarh of the Deccan. By the untiring zeal of Seth Haji Yoosuf Sobani, our self-composed begging committee of Seth Haji Yoosuf Sobani, Haji Eisa and myself were fortunate enough to get promises of subscriptions for over 2½ lacs of rupees within a short time Seth Haji Gulam Mohamed Azam promising a lac and seven of the Donor Trustees contributing fifteen thousand each and others contributing from Rs. 500 to 5000. By the efforts of Sir Abbas Ali Baig and all of us the Constitutions and the Rules and Regulations were duly drawn and the beautiful hill of Lingar measuring about 150 acres with its fine, pure, ever running spring was also purchased and given over to the school by my brother Jafferbhoy Haji Noormahomed and Umer Sobani.

On the 20th May 1920, H. E. the Governor laid the foundation stone and the account of the ceremony has been fully reported in the Press. From June 1920 to September 1921 the school was going on fairly well; the increase in number of students was, however, very low but looking to the history of the Parsee High School and other up-country boarding high schools our progress in the two years was in no way inferior to them. We could have got more students but for the fact that we had not sufficient accomodation and at the same time the work of building our own Hostels and school was also delayed because Sir Abbas ali Baig and Haji Eisa had been to England and the Hon. Khan Bahadur Ebrahim Haroon Jaffer ceased taking any interest from June 1920. On the other had Seth Haji Yoosuf Sobani and myself were both busy, the former collecting funds and counselling me in managing the school. On the return of Sir Abbas Ali Baig and Haji Eisa from England we made a little change in the teaching staff; I am glad to state that at present the teaching staff is quite adequate and competent enough for the requirement of the school and some of them are old teachers. The teaching staff comprises at present of five teachers, one Moulvi for Namaz and Koran sharif and Urdu translation and a drill and Sports supervisor and a Doctor. Here-after, on the reopening, when it is expected a fairly large number of students will join the school, two more graduates and trained teachers will be added to the staff. We commenced the work of the building of Hostels and school on our own site at Lingara and I am happy to report that under the supervision of Seth Haji Eisa we have been able to build three large blocks and have been able to shift our Hostel and school from rented bungalows to our own premises. We have now 40 boarders and 12 day scholars. We are building further two blocks which are expected to be ready by the end of August and we shall be quite willing to take more students when the school reopen on the 11th September.

Up to now we used to take students at Rs. 40 to Rs. 45 for a month. Some are of opinion that this fee could only be paid by well-to-do people and, therefore this school is intended for them only. I say this is altogether a false impression. The fee is just the fee which the Parsee school charges and is much lower than what is charged in the three European schools. Further I make bold to say that the food given by us is richer than that given to the boys in other schools at Panchgani, although the food given in other schools is in my opinion quite nice and wholesome. The fee of Rs. 45/- does not leave us any margin. However, I would be only too happy if more children of our well-to do brethren join our school at these fees, because in them we would be able to look confidently for all help that would be necesssary for the cause of Moslem Education in the Deccan,

Since we have saved rent by occupying our own premises we have decided to give a lift to those who cannot afford to pay Rs. 45/- and, therefore, we have advertised to take about 25 students at Rs. 30/- per month. I think this action of ours will make quite clear to everyone that the Dar-ul-uloom is for all classes of of Moslems. Need I say if we get further donations or a large number of Rs. 45/-Boarders we will not fail to give help to many more to join our School. It may be that we may hereafter be able to take a few free students as well but I have no doubt that after a decade we shall produce such young men from this Dar-ul-Uloom that by their support many a poor Moslem student will not only get free education in this Dar-ul-Uloom but many Primary and High Schools will be provided for them in the different parts of this great country.

I also take this opportunity of sincerely thanking my collegues Seth Haji Yoosuf Sobani, Seth Haji Gulam Mahomed Ajam, Seth Haji Esa and Seth Dadamia Khandwani who were ever ready to counsel and support me during the last three years, yours etc.

CALCUTTA SHARE MARKET

(Associated Press.)

CALCUTTA, June 23.

There has been a better feeling in the market all day. Jute shares had more buyers in spite of the publication of the Hooghly report announcing a very meagre distribution for the year. National, Angio-India, Auckland, Kankinarrah, Naihati, Bally and Union were all of good features. Budge Budge and Lansdowne were on offer. Howrah touched 49-14. Clive made very little movement all day but closed at several annas below the best price reached. The undertone for jute shares at the close was steady. Among coals there was enquiry for Raneegunge, Equitable, Kalapahari, East India, Bengal Giridih, Jainty Central and Century. A small parcel of jainty Wests changed hands at 10-4. Cotton were listless with Kesorams steady. Miscellaneous stocks produced no outstanding feature. Indian Iron and Steel had a further setback but Calcutta Trams and Madan Theatres were commanding better rates. C. P. Cements and Hume Pipes continue to hang over the market and sellers can make no headway. Imperial Bank (fully paid) were again placed at 1420 but the contributory still have no buyers and stand nominally at 380. Following were closing quotations:—

HARWOOD FOOTBALL TOURNAMENT.

BRIGADE STAFF (7) BEAT Y.M.C.A. (I)

Play in connection with the Harwood League Football Tournament was resumed yesterday on the Cooperage ground. Play began punctually at 5-45 p.m. There was a crowded attendance in the galleries. The weather was fine after the heavy rains of the preceding days and the delightful interlude of sunshine and fine skies which was a characteristic of yesterday tempted many to go out of doors. As a result of the good weather play proceeded under ideal conditions.

The participants in the day's match were Brigade Staff and Y. M. C. A. The match proved an absolutely one-sided affair and in this respect had many points in common with day before yesterday's match in which the Bombay Gymkhana defeated Bengal United by four goals to nil. Yesterday's result was in no way better for the Brigade Staff emerged victors from the fray with seven goals to their credit, while the Y. M. C. A. could make only the feeble response of one solitary goal. These one-sided affairs go a long way to diminish interest in the Tournament and in the interests of brighter football and a more cheerful gallery it would be well if some of the weak teams figuring in the Tournament would put more of energy and concentrated effort into the games and thus avoid the possibility of one-sided games devoid of spectacular interest.

In the first half four goals were scored, three by the Staff and one by the Y. M. C. A. This was the only goal scored by the Red Triangle men in the match. Rogers was responsible for this goal. The Staff played an excellent game during both halves. They were always conspicuous in attack, there being excellent understanding between the component parts of the team. The backs too, as events proved, turned out to be an exceptionally capable lot and it was only at very rare and distant intervals that the Y. M. C. A. forwards were able to pierce the very wide-awake defence of the Staff. Cole, Lieut. Ferry and Tongue of the Staff forward line figured prominently in the attacking operations which tacked the Y. M. C. A. defence to its utmost capacity.

The Y. M. C. A. forwards were a tame lot altogether with no sting in their attack. In the second half they seemed to be labouring under some soporific influence. Their evolutions resembled more the movements of sleep walkers rather than the purposeful tactics of alert footballers. Consequently, the Staff forward pack experienced no difficulty in bagging four goals more during the second half. The score at the end stood thus:—

Brigade Staff ..... 7 goals.
Y. M. C. A. ..... 1 goal.

The teams were:—

BRIGADE STAFF.

Goal: Spencer; Full Backs: Vasley and Calvert; Half Backs: Holmes, Wood and Bellingham; Forwards: Ferry, Cole, Lieut. Munro, Tongue and Balls.

Y. M. C. A.

Goal: Doddo; Full Backs: Constable and Dare; Half Backs: Rogers, Muscovits and Brown; Forwards: Nibblett, Ardagh, Eruse, Mayo and Martin.

In the course of his speech he dealt with the importance of commercial studies. He then read the message of congratulation sent by H. E. the Governor.

MAHATMA GANDHI'S JAIL EXPERIENCES TOLD BY HIMSELF

A specimen page from the book

—I WISH—

That the result of the perusal of these experiences would be that he who knows not what patriotism is would learn it and after doing so become a passive resister, and he who is so already, would be confirmed in his attitude. I also get more and more confirmed that he who does not know what patriotism or feeling for one's country is does not know his true duty or religion.

THE PALESTINE MANDATE.

The defeat of the Government in the House of Lords on Lord Islington's motion has little bearing upon the history of the Coalition Government. For, what the Lords say or do is regarded by the nation, and the Government of the day, as of little account. The incident, however, is of interest in that it is one of the few instances on record of the Lords thinking a little more wisely than the Government. We are more often treated to defeats of the Government in the House of Lords under very different circumstances—to recall the Dyer Debate for instance and the defeat of the Government in which it resulted. But Lord Islington's motion is a move in the right direction. It declares the Palestine mandate unacceptable "because it violates the Government's pledges to the people of Palestine, and opposes the wishes of the great majority of Palestinians." This bald statement hardly does justice to the theme, though we will doubtless have to await the arrival of the mail papers before we can learn whether Lord Islington's speech in support of his motion was more uncompromising and emphatic.

England's broken pledges in Palestine have not received the same notice as other instances of bad faith on the part of the Coalition Cabinet have won in the East; events in Asia Minor, in Egypt and in Irak—not to mention India—have received more publicity and have attracted greater attention. But the sacredness of Britain's war-time pledges seems nowhere to have been invested with greater sanctity than in Palestine—the Holy Land of the Christians as of the Muslims. On this soil, redolent with holy memories to men of both creeds, the British in their hour of need made certain promises—promising to give the Arabs, who constitute the vast majority of the population, the right of self-determination which, at the time this pledge was given, was one of Britain's most widely-advertised "War Aims." It is true that the British had, even prior to this, pledged themselves to the Zionists. But the Arabs did not know of the earlier committal. Had they known of it, and had they suspected that Britain designed to place Arab majorities under the rule of a Jewish minority—and a minority whose meagre number had been made up by promiscuous importations from all over the world of most undesirable aliens and neighbours—we are very certain the Arabs of Palestine would not have proved friendly auxiliaries during the war. They would have been quick to realise that under Turkish domination they were at least under the nominal rule of men of their own faith, (and under the actual rule of their own kith and kin). But as Britain plans the future of Irak,—pointing to her first-sworn vows to the Zionists, to lend an air of rectitude to her designs—the Muslim majority in Palestine appear to be doomed. They are to submit to a direct Hebrew domination, and to an indirect Christian sway. The policy of Zionism places the Muslim owners of the soil at a most profound disadvantage in the struggle for life. Anything more unjust could hardly be conceived. As justly might England design to restore the ancient Kingdom of Egypt to the Gypsies of the world who are held by some authorities to be the descendents of the ancient Egyptians. The modern Egyptians would of a certainty protest very emphatically at having the world swept of all wandering Romany tribes and the sweepings decanted into Egypt, there to receive such special privileges as made them the direct rulers of the country. Not less absured is the Zionist programme which Britain professes to have at heart in determining the future of Palestine under a British mandate.

The Jews of the world who have a stake in their respective countries do not propose to emigrate to Palestine. They are too wise for that and a great deal too comfortable and prosperous where they are. This means that the settlers whom the British would encourage to people Palestine are those Jews who have failed in the battle of life elsewhere in the world—the unfit, the wastrels and the shiftless. These importations, plus the small minority of the Jews of Palestine, are to be set in virtual authority over the Muslim majority. Worse still, the Zionists are encouraged to emigrate to a land which is already comfortably populated and settled. This means that in the very near future the only lands to which Jewish settlers might aspire will be the lands of the Muslims, who at present own the bulk of the soil of Palestine. Zionism can, therefore, only mean ultimately the expropriation of Muslims from ownership of the land they and their fathers have held for centuries. This is the end towards which the British Mandate is designed to operate. Small wonder indeed that Lord Islington should declare the mandate "unacceptable" and describe it as a violation of the Government's pledges to the people of Palestine!

EXPOSED!

Reuter's agency has described Ghazi Mustafa Kemal Pasha's latest speech at Ismid, as an "anti-British" one. Our own opinion formed on the summary cabled by Reuter is that the speech is characteristically honest and straightforward. That it is anti-British is not Mustafa Kemal's fault but the misfortune of the British and their fault—or at least the fault of those statesmen who have brought Britain's honour to such a pass that no honest man can attempt conscientiously to defend Great Britain in a matter where her bad faith has been so damningly exposed. "If the removal of hostile elements from war zones were to be considered an atrocity, then, the responsibility for that atrocity must be sought in Athens and perhaps in the greatest capital in the world." This is a straightforward accusation which not all the ingenuity and plausibility of Lord Curzon and Mr. Lloyd George can disprove. In a recent note on the subject we declared that time was the greatest enemy of this latest dastardly intrigue against the Turks which Ghazi Mustafa Kemal so candidly denounced at Ismid. To-day we publish a translation from a Turkish paper (the "Anadolu" of Adalia) which tells much of the truth about the disgraceful cabal. We invite the attention of our readers to the revelations made so concisely by our Turkish contemporary. Particularly, do we invite attention to the following points:—The revelations claim to be specifically supported by the American High Commissioner in Constantinople, and by the Head of the American Relief Mission to which Dr. Ward and Mr. Yowell once belonged and from which they were expelled. Dr. Ward and Mr. Yowell were dismissed from the American Relief Commission for infringing the Commission's rules of strict neutrality; they were deported from Kharput by the Turks for fostering rebellion among the Greeks; their lies were refuted on their utterance by a colleague remaining at Kharput in a telegram to the American High Commissioner; their expulsion from Kharput and from the ranks of the American Commission for gross misconduct took place as long ago as six months before their tales were published; their obviously malicious concoctions were refused by the correspondents in Constantinople of respectable American newspapers on the score of being patent fabrications; the falsehoods eventually secured publicity through an Armenian organization for intrigue which, after the American papers had rejected the stories, sent them to the London "Times." We trust Reuter's correspondent in India will apprise the English Press of the fact that Indian Muslims have now been made acquainted with the truth of the intrigue against Turkey. We trust also that Lord Reading will advise the British Foreign Office that unless the statement we publish to-day is most convincingly and categorically denied and refuted, it were hopeless for His Majesty's Government to expect, the head of "a subordinate department of the administration, six thousand miles away," to continue to assure Indian Muslims of British honesty and goodwill towards Islam and the Turks. Verily, Lord Curzon expects much of the Viceroy of India. He expects Lord Reading to remain mute after all the latter's professions of sympathy with Muslims, while the British Foreign Office continues to betray the Government of India. He expects Lord Reading to continue his attempts at allaying Muslim indignation and unrest while the most damning exposures of the Coalition's evil intentions towards Islam and the Turks are being made daily in Turkey, in India and even in England. Lord Reading has proved that he possesses meekness and patience to an uncommon degree. Is there no limit to his capacity for suffering betrayals at the hands of the Coalition? This last, of course, is a question concerning him and the Government of India alone, since the Muslims of India and the world are so surfeited with betrayals that they are preoccupied only with the question of redoubling their efforts at saving Islam and the Khalifa. And they realise now more then ever formerly that the salvation of the Government of India from meek servility to an immoral Coalition Government and its Foreign Office must come first. That is why they are Non-co-operators working for Swaraj.

Notes of the Day

A Mysterious Murder.

The murder of Sir Henry Wilson was a crime as cowardly as it was useless. From the messages to hand at the moment of writing, the suggestion appears to be that the crime is the work of Irish extremists. It seems on the face of it to be the work of homicidal lunatics; for no possible benefit to Ireland could arise as a result of the murder. On the contrary, by needlessly embittering the feelings of the British people the crime may be the cause of fresh and prolonged misery for Ireland. Until the murderers are brought to trial, however, it is rash to venture upon a discussion of the motives or consequences of their act, since with things in their present chaotic state it is even possible that the crime was the work of enemies of Irish Nationalism who hope thereby to arouse intense feeling against the Irish in Great Britain.

"White New Zealand."

From the letter we published in our Wednesday's issue, from Mr. Benarasi Das Chaturvedi, it is evident that the Government of New Zealand have made up their mind not to be outstripped by Australia in the preposterously selfish policy of racial exclusion. The Immigration Restriction Amendment Act, in open defiance of the Reciprocity Resolution of the Imperial Conference, practically bolts the doors of New Zealand against the entry of Indians. The Act provides that no person other than a person of British or Irish birth and parentage shall enter the country unless he is in possession of a permit in the prescribed form. The application for a permit has to be addressed to the Minister of Customs, New Zealand, who is the only and final authority to grant or refuse it. Under the cloak of the altruistic motive of pronouncing whether the climatic conditions would suit the Indian immigrants, the Minister is reported to have chosen a course calculated to defeat the purpose of the confiding applicants. The writer of the letter presses home the point by an extract from a New Zealand paper which observes:—

> "It is a significant fact that whereas this time last year every vessel arriving from Sydney and Fiji brought the full total of Indians permitted according to tonnage, the same boats are now bringing only two or three or none at all."

The tactics of the Minister stand condemned out of his own mouth. The same paper further reports:—

> "We get, on an average, about a dozen applications from Indians each English mail," said the Minister of Customs, Mr. J. P. Ridings, yesterday. "These are usually couched in very flowery and persuasive terms. We then send back application forms, requiring full personal details, a medical certificate, and police certificate, or a guarantee as to character from some other public official. These applications are then forwarded to the Controller of Customs at Wellington. I think permission has been granted for about ten Hindus under the new regulations, but these are mostly children. There is no doubt whatever that the new regulations are proving most effective as a means of restricting Asiatic immigration."

It is by such tortuous and ignoble ways that the Reciprocity pact is honoured in its breach. India bases its claim on the Imperial Conference Resolution which allows freedom of entry to all but the undesirable immigrants irrespective of racial considerations. Meanwhile, Mr. Sastri blesses the "White Australia" policy, and begs Australia "to scotch the disruptive movement in India" merely by removing the disabilities of domiciled Indians. Not only is he thus going back on the Imperial Conference Resolution but betraying his own countrymen.

The Fiji Menace.

Mr. Manilal writes:—

> Sir,—We have all now seen the cable concerning Indians in Fiji, brief as it is. It is the necessary conclusion to a lengthy period of malicious misrepresentation of facts.
>
> The Fiji Government was brought into existence by the white adventurers from Australia, New Zealand and America and no revenues would be available if the great "Company" were subtracted from the account. The great "Company" (Kabani) could not run without cheap Indian labour. Labour cannot remain cheap enough with equality of status. Therefore, this hue and cry against the theoretical recognition of a potential right (the exercise of which has not mended matters much in Mauritius or British Guiana, etc).
> Indians were welcome as wage-slaves only: as equals or claimants to equality they must be excluded. The "Times of India" opens its eyes now after having taken the despatch of the Fiji Governor as gospel truth in 1920, when it wrote against me and the Indian strikers, without knowing the "wheels within wheels" of the Fiji situation. The leaderette in the "Times" of Thursday is a belated expression of a feeling of "fair play" with undue optimism in Mr. Winston Churchill's uncertain desire to do justice and faith in the Indian Government's capacity to see justice done. My information, knowledge, experiences and sufferings in Mauritius, South Africa, Fiji and elsewhere have convinced me that the fear of the Indian Government that the Rt. Hon. S. Sastri may not succeed in his mission (accompanied of course with the advice that he need not be disheartened in that case) rests on the surest of foundations. The Indian Government without seeing that we are treated as equals in India is professing to sympathize with our claims to equality outside based on promises and pledges, made and given repeatedly since the time of Lord Salisbury, in the hope that the supply of labour from India could continue indefinitely without the Indians ever being in a position to command the fulfilment of such promises and pledges. "Slaves at home to be treated as slaves abroad." Those who justify or condone Amritsar in India are not expected to act otherwise when a miniature Amritsar is enacted in Fiji."

Will Mr. Sastri, who is now engaged in the pleasant task of enlisting the services of "White Australia" to combat the non-cooperation movement, turn his attention to Fiji? The Government of India had despatched a committee of enquiry to Fiji, That Committee finished its enquiry many weeks ago. Will the Government of India expedite the publication of its report or will they delay the publication until it is too late? Meanwhile, what is Lord Reading doing?

Retiring Officers.

With the publication of the Montford report, the fiction was started that a new heaven and a new earth were going to be created in India and a change effected in the machinery of administration for which the Civilians had not bargained when they signed the Covenant. Many of them could not, we were told, be a party to an arrangement which would result, as sure as day follows night, in Indians becoming masters in their own country. They levelled a big stick at the Secretary of State threatening to kick the dust of India off their feet—with the result that they were bought off by Mr. Montagu with the grant of higher salaries, overseas allowances and a host of other similar concessions. Nay more; for those who made a brave show of retiring, the obliging Secretary of State arranged that they could do so before the end of 1924, on proportionate pension. India has taken strong exception to this loot of her money by showing favouritism to the services all along the line; but let that pass. We were sure that if there were to be any resignations they would be dictated solely by financial considerations and it is as clear as daylight that the members of the Services who felt their amour propre wounded by the introduction of the "Reforms" are in that state of mind in which Hamlet was when he meditated, "To be or not to be." Now replying to Mr. Hogge, Lord Winterton has said that "it has now become apparent that if the date 1924 is adhered to, many officers would not be sufficiently assured with regard to future conditions by that time and they would, therefore, retire while opportunity was open. It has, therefore, been decided that opportunity must be kept open for a considerable additional period." We can quite understand the doubts tormenting the hearts of the members of the Services but there is absolutely no sense in extending indefinitely the period when officers can retire. More things will take place by 1924 than are dreamt of in Lord Winterton's philosophy. For one thing there will be Swaraj. We do not think India will be or will want to be without Englishmen in the Services even then, for we do not believe in the fiction of Englishmen's reluctance to serve under Indians. An Englishman serves as a chauffeur to an Indian prince and Mr. Sastri has got an English valet. If, however, any officers wish to retire, the present is the best time for them to do so. They will not get such advantageous terms when India comes into her own.

Great Scott.

Mr. J. M. K. McKenzie, of the "Indian Daily Telegraph" of Lucknow has ventured upon a reply to a recent note in these columns concerning Sir Harcourt Butler. We gladly publish the effort elsewhere since it is a delightfully characteristic one. Mr. McKenzie gravely informs us that "if we accept the argument in your article. . . . that Sir Harcourt Butler's term should not be extended because of Repression, then the entire body of British officials from Lord Reading to Sir George Lloyd, who laid the Ali Brothers and Mr. Gandhi by the heels, deserve even less favourable treatment." As who should say:—"If you are right then the stars in their courses are wrong!" It will, we fear, seem deeply sacrilegious to Mr. McKenzie when we affirm that here at least his reasoning is perfectly sound. We affirm not only that our argument must be accepted but that as a necessary corollary to the acceptance it follows that "the entire body of British officials" who have been responsible for or who have countenanced Repression, should receive the same treatment as Sir Harcourt Butler. Having uttered what to Mr. McKenzie's presumably shrinking little Imperialist soul must seem like the height of blasphemy, we proceed to draw attention to the delightfully modest reference by Mr. McKenzie to his own earlier efforts to "convert" the Greatest Man in the World into a disciple of—Mr. J. M. K McKenzie. We have a vague remembrance of certain open letters to Mahatma Gandhi published in the "Indian Daily Telegraph" last year and given a little real publicity by the Associated Press of India. We also seem to remember that Mahatma Gandhi was good enough to take notice of these letters and to reply once or twice to them, so very quietly and effectively as might have made the author a trifle chary of recalling the incident. We also recall that the "controversy"—if we may dignify by such a name an exchange of views comparable only to the incident of some street urchin striving to heckle a sage—appealed to us at the time as being a singularly pathetic and futile attempt of an obscure intelligence to draw a little attention to itself. Mr. McKenzie, however, considers that he "advised Mr. Gandhi!" Also, he "has every desire to be fair to Mr. Gandhi and the Swarajists!" The magnanimity of this will doubtless overwhelm Mahatma Gandhi and the Congress—unless indeed both have forgotten that a Mr. McKenzie has ever existed, and are not in the least interested in learning that he does exist and desires to be fair to them. Mr. McKenzie's self-complacent championship of Sir Harcourt Butler is delightfully amusing, but this, naturally, does not entitle it to be regarded as a serious contribution to the propaganda on the subject. Rather the reverse in fact.

Geneva Labour Conference.

The report submitted by Mr. N. M. Joshi, the representative of Indian Labour at the International Labour Conference held at Geneva last year, is a record of valuable and useful work done in the cause of the workers of India. That the importance of such a conference is being generally realised becomes evident from the fact that thirty-nine countries have till now joined the International Labour Organisation and were represented at the Conference by 118 delegates and 239 advisers. The problems discussed included some of the burning questions that are engaging the attention of social workers the world over. As a result of discussion an Agricultural Commission was appointed which recommended the granting of certain rights to agricultural workers over and above the necessity of imparting vocational training to them. It was in this connection that Mr. Joshi did not miss to urge the necessity of the Conference considering the question of compulsory primary education in those countries where it did not prevail as a necessary preliminary to vocational education. Conventions regulating the employment of women and children were adopted. It was unfortunate but not surprising that on the question of restriction of hours of work of agricultural labourers, the Government of India and Employers' representatives voted with the reactionary majority. Mr. Joshi's suggestions that Indian Labour should send to the future conferences larger number of representatives and that the delegation should contain at least one woman to lay the case of Indian women workers before the Conference will, we hope, find favour with the authorities concerned.

All-India Ayurvedic College, Ahmedabad.

The Indian renaissance ushered by the non-cooperation movement has given, as it was bound to give, an impetus to the study of our ancient medical lore. The Ayurvedic and Unani systems of medicine have passed the stage of ridicule and it will not be long before they find their rightful place in our national economy. Science, however, recognises no geographical boundaries and in the noble task of alleviating human suffering, the East and the West can most profitably meet. We are glad to note, therefore, that the proposed College has its Western wing. "The course will extend over five years, and will embrace Ayurvedic, Allopathic (full L.C. P.S. course) and Unani systems in all their important branches. The institute has many special features among which the following may be mentioned: (1) Trips to mountains and jungles for a first-hand knowledge of plant-life; (2) Main teaching work through Hindi and (3) Original research work in Ayurveda. It is but natural that the authorities should give prominence to research work, for the last word in wisdom was not said centuries back. Our medical sciences fell into disrepute, because, as the Mahatma said while opening the Tibbi College, the Hakims and Vaids did not keep abreast of modern research. The College is being launched none too early, it has pinned it ideal high and we hope to see it establish for itself as enviable a reputation as that of Hakim Ajmal Khan's Tibbi College to which students flock from all parts of Central and Western Asia as well as India.

SIR HENRY WILSON.

SHOT DEAD OUTSIDE HIS LONDON RESIDENCE.

TWO IRISH YOUTHS ARRESTED.

GREAT SENSATION IN COMMONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson has been shot dead outside his London residence. Two arrests have been made.

CONFLICTING ACCOUNTS OF TRAGEDY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

Sir Henry Wilson was shot shortly after he had unveiled the war memorial to the employees of the Great Eastern Railway at Liverpool Street station. He returned to his residence in Eaton Place in a taxi-cab at 2-40 in the afternoon. The accounts of the tragedy are conflicting. Some say the assassins forced their way into the Field-Marshal's house after a fight with the police who had recently been assigned to watch Sir Henry Wilson whilst other accounts state that two men opened fire immediately Sir Henry Wilson alighted from the cab. Sir Henry Wilson ducked the shots which missed and leapt up the front door steps and tried to open the door with a latchkey when a third shot hit him in the head and he fell in the roadway in a pool of blood. The police hearing the shots rushed up and a running fight ensued in which two constables were shot, one fatally. The two men arrested are named Connolly and McBrien.

WORKMEN'S ACCOUNT OF TRAGEDY.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

Sir Henry Wilson's residence in Eaton Place is under repair at the present moment and the workmen's accounts of the tragedy are very contradictory but they and the other eye-witnesses relate graphic stories of pursuit of the assassins. It appears that when Sir Henry Wilson fell the murderers tried to seize the motor car at the corner but were frustrated and fled on foot walking rapidly in the centre of the roadway and firing at the crowd of two hundred persons headed by ten policemen, wounding two constables and also a civilian. The murderers were rounded up in Ebury Street and captured after a desperate struggle in which the police used truncheons. One ruffian aiming a revolver was disarmed by a blow on the wrist by a skilfully thrown truncheon. The infuriated crowd closed in and the police had great difficulty in preventing the criminals from being beaten to death. They are officially described each as aged twenty-four of no occupation and no address. One is a big burly fellow who was badly hurt in the struggle and the other is slight with a limp.

MINISTERS DISCUSS POSITION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

Reuter understands that after the adjournment of the House of Commons, the Ministers discussed the position but in the absence of full information of all the circumstances, they were unable to reach any conclusions regarding the possible consequences of Sir Henry Wilson's assassination. A widespread fear prevails among the members of the House of Commons that there may be a reaction in Ulster which he will fall upon the Catholic minority. It is also suggested that the extremists who planned the murder may contemplate other assassinations and it is said that the police are taking special precautions to protect certain persons who have possibly been marked down.

STIR IN COMMONS.

HOUSE ADJOURNED AS MARK OF PROFOUND REGRET

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

The news of Sir Henry Wilson's tragic end caused the greatest stir and dismay in the House of Commons to-day. Mr. Lloyd George was so absorbed that he failed to answer the question regarding the honours to the members. In a momentary irritation, Mr. Asquith crossed to the Treasury bench and earnestly discussed the matter with Messrs. George, Chamberlain and Churchill. Business came to a hault, and then Mr. Asquith rose and with emotion described the tidings of the most dreadful character, the murder of a gallant soldier, the one great War general who had become a highly esteemed member of the House of Commons.

Replying to Mr. Asquith's request for information, Mr. Chamberlain, who was much moved, gave what was available and then proceeded to pronounce a tribute to Sir Henry Wilson's services. He concluded by moving an adjournment of the House, precedents notwithstanding, as a mark of profound respect. This was sorrowfully done.

TRIBUTE TO THE DECEASED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

In the House of Lords, Lord Birkenhead read out a message from Scotland Yard stating that Sir Henry Wilson had been shot three times. An examination disclosed the wounds were inflicted in the body, arm and leg. It was believed that the shooting occurred on the threshold of the Field Marshal's house when he was about to leave.

Two arrested men were named James O'Brien and James Connolly.

They declined to give an account of themselves beyond saying that they were soldiers, but they did not indicate their regiment.

The Police had found a copy of the official organ of the Republican Army on Connolly, also correspondence proving that he was undoubtedly a member of the Republican Army.

Lord Birkenhead paid a tribute to Sir Henry Wilson.

The Marquess of Salisbury moved a resolution recording the House's detestation of the horrible crime by which the country was deprived of a most distinguished soldier and public servant.

The Marquess of Crew and other Lords supported, after which the House adopted the resolution in silence.

WHO IS TRULY LOVED?

SIR H. WILSON'S PATHETIC SPEECH.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

A pathetic interest attaches to Sir Henry Wilson's last speech at Liverpool Street. Many women sobbed when the Field Marshal said:

"We soldiers count losses as our gains. Men we love most and honour are those who died for the great cause."

He concluded by quoting Kipling's Recessional beginning "Tumult and shouting dies. . . . . ."

THE ASSASSINATION CONDEMNED.

MR. GRIFFITH'S VIEW.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

Mr. Griffith, interviewed by a Reuter's representative in Dublin to-day, said that the fundamental principle of civilised Government was that the assassination of a political opponent could not be justified or condoned. Sir Henry Wilson's political views opposed those of a vast majority of his countrymen, but the vast majority would condemn that anarchic deed.

Sir James Craig, speaking in the Northern Parliament, declared that Sir H. Wilson had laid down his life for Ulster. The foul murder shewed beyond argument that a wide conspiracy existed against those who were fighting Ulster's battles.

PRINCE OF WALES' BIRTHDAY DINNER CANCELLED.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

The King has cancelled to-morrow's dinner in honour of the Prince of Wales' birthday, owing to Sir Henry Wilson's murder.

CONNOLLY AND BRIEN CHARGED WITH MURDER.

WESTMINSTER POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 23.

Connolly and Brien who were charged at Westminster Police Court with the murder of Sir Henry Wilson, were remanded for a week. Proceedings in the Court were short. The Prosecutor, Mr. Travers Humphrey, said, no time woud be lost in bringing to justice the perpetrators of the foul and detestable murder. It would probably be necessary to ask the Court to withhold the names and addresses of the witnesses and to prohibit photographing. A police inspector testified that when charged at the police station neither prisoners replied, but Connolly later asked "How are the other chaps who were shot"? When told they were progressing favourably both prisoners said they were glad to hear it.

MESSAGES OF SYMPATHY.

FROM FOCH MILLERAND AND POINCARE.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 23.

Marshal Foch has sent Reuters a message that he is profoundly grieved at the assassination of Field-Marshal Sir Henry Wilson, as he cherished the sincerest affection for his faithful and brilliant colleague of the war and after the war. Marshal Foch has telegraphed his sympathy to the late Field-Marshal's family and will attend the funeral. President Millerand and Premier Poincare have also telegraphed their sympathy.

FIFTEEN MEN DETAINED.

DISCOVERY OF ARMS AND INCENDIARY TUBES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 23.

In the House of Commons Mr. Chamberlain stated that as a result of numerous police raids last night, fifteen men and one women were detained. Some arms and incendiary tubes were also discovered.

DISMAY IN DUBLIN.

REPUBLICANS DENY RESPONSIBILITY FOR MURDER.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 23.

The universal horror and detestation evoked by the murder of Sir Henry Wilson is expressed in leading articles of this morning's London newspapers, coupled with the highest tributes to the deceased, to the bravery of policemen and to the grave anxiety regarding reaction in Ireland, where it is feared the tragedy will tend to widen the chasm between North and South and evoke reprisals in Belfast, the crime has dismayed and depressed Dublin. There seems good reason to believe that Sir Henry Wilson died sword in hand, having drawn it when he was first shot at as the weapon was found out of its scabbard. The authorities are considering the advisability of arming the London police. The wounded people, contrary to previous repors, are all doing well. The Chief of Staff of the Irish Republican Army Irregulars denies that the murder is the work of the Republican army.

[Field-Marshall Sir Henry Hughes Wilson, Bart., G.C.B., D.S.O., whose tragic end is reported by Reuter to-day, was only 57 years old at the time of death, having been born in 1864. He was an Irishman by birth. He was a Member of the War Cabinet since 1918, and filled the post of Chief of the Imperial General Staff.

After graduating from the Staff College, he first entered the Royal Irish Regiment in 1884 and was since transferred to the Rifle Brigade the same year. The next year saw him serving in the Burma Campaign of 1885-1887. In the latter year he was wounded, but served again for two years more in Burma and was awarded a medal with two clasps. He then joined the Staff College where he remained till 1894. He subsequently filled various positions such as: Staff-Captain, Intelligence Division, (1894-97), Brigade-Major, 2nd Brigade, Aldershot, (1897-99); Brigade-Major, Light Brigade, South Africa (1899-1900). He distinguished himself in the South African Operations, was repeatedly mentioned in despatches and was awarded a D. S. O. 1901. Since then till 1914, the year of the outbreak of the Great War, he was connected with Army Headquarters as A. A. G. (1903-6) and Director of Military operations 1910-1914). On the outbreak of the war he was appointed as Assistant Chief of the General Staff to Lord French being subsequently directed to command the Eastern District. He was British military representative at Versailles in 1917 and was created Field-Marshal in 1919.

SALE OF HONOURS.

A GRAVE PUBLIC SCANDAL.

CRITICISM IN LORDS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 23.

The method of conferment of Honours was strongly criticed in the debate in the House of Lords today, particularly in connection with Sir Joseph Robinson's peerage, which was denounced by Lords Buxton and Selborne two former High Commissioners for South Africa, amid the unusually warm applause of Peers Lord Selborne termed the present system a public scandal of the first magnitude and said that immense sums continued to flow into the coffers of the political party momentarily in power.

The Government was obliged to absent to the adjournment of the debate.

A FRESH DEFEAT FOR GOVT.

ON FINANCIAL AMENDMENT.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

The Government was defeated by twenty votes to fourteen on the financial amendment at the House of Commons' Standing Committee, whereupon Sir Alfred Mond foreshadowed possible total withdrawal of the measure.

FRENCH WAR DEBT.

NO QUESTION RAISED OF CANCELLATION

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

The question of the French War debt to Britain was brought up in the House of Commons to-day and evoked a statement by Mr. Lloyd George that the French Government had not endeavoured to raise the question of cancellation, but the subject was naturally informally mentioned between the representatives. The Premier repeated that the taxpayers were unable to forego the payment of the sums advanced to other countries during and after the War if the payment of the interest and the capital was pressed in respect of loans to Britain for the prosecution of the War. The Government, therefore, had notified such countries that Britain must be regarded as being free to ask for the interest in cash in respect of the money advances from next October.

IRISH ELECTIONS.

NOTEWORTHEY FEATURES.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 22.

The Irish election results:—

Coalition Pro-Treaty; Fifty-five.
Coalition Republican; Thirty-four.
Labour; Fifteen.
Independents; Ten.
Farmers; Six.

It is noteworthy that the Republicans have lost twenty-four seats. The Independents including the Farmers and the Labour representatives, form twenty-five per cent of the new Parliament. Of the sixteen Labour candidates, only one has been defeated. The declaration of polling in Mr. Collins' constituency in mid-Cork alone remains to complete the Republicans' rout. It is already known that Mr. Collins headed the poll by a double quota required to secure the election.

56,593 voted for eight seats in mid-Cork, hence the counting has been than the necesary quota.

The completion of poll in Kildare-Wicklow, which was four to one in favour of the Treaty, has resulted in three Independents displacing three Republicans. The Coalition pro-Treaty candidate Byrne headed the poll. The Republican, Barton only secured an election under proportional representation.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

Bombs were thrown at the drapers' premises in Raphoe Country Donegal in the Free State territory this morning. The building with its stock together with the adjoining hotel was burned to the ground. A young man formerly a special constable in Belfast was taken out of the house where he was lodging at Windgate in County Nicklow and was shot dead. Masked men held up the mail train from Belfast near Randalstown, seized the mail bags and decamped.

At Allahabad, intense heat was relieved this morning by a fairly heavy shower of rain which continues.

CONSPIRACY EXPOSED.

STORY OF TURKISH "ATROCITIES."

PATENT & MALICIOUS FABRICATIONS.

A TURKISH PAPER'S REVELATIONS.

(From the newspaper "Anadolu" of Adalia. Translated from the Turkish.)

LET THE WHOLE WORLD READ.

Four Americans Turned out of Anatolia—Their calumnies Published in the "Times"—Mr. Gilespie's Refutation—Fictions bought by the Armenians!—Testimony of respectable Americans—Telegram from America's Representative in Anatolia—Other Important evidence—Curzon's aim—Agitation for Inquiry—Americans do not agree—National Government's view—How the English are working for our extermination—If they hold Inquiry injuries done to world of Islam by England ought to be the subject—Explanations of our Ministry of the Interior—How is it that they do not see the wrongs the Greeks are doing in our country—Respectable Americans are among our friends.

ANGORA, May 20.

It is known that because one Yowell formerly in the American Relief Commission for the Near East and his colleagues were trying to start all sorts of intrigues and were implicated in seditious movements during their stay in Anatolia, the local Government after investigation was obliged to arrest and deport them. For the sake of revenge against the local government for this event which rankled in their minds, these persons have concocted certain fabrications of imaginary atrocities in some localities of Anatolia and have recently published the said fabrications in the "Times" newspaper of May 6, 1922, thus making them known to the whole world. How groundless are the allegations thus disseminated will be seen from the statement of Mr. Gillespie Commercial Attache the American Embassy at Constantinople to a correspondent of the Anatolian News Agency.

MR. GILLESPIE'S STATEMENT.

"With regard to the allegations recently published by Yowell, in the "Times" newspaper, regarding the ill-treatment of the non-Muslim elements in Anatolia which it was desired to publish in European and American newspapers, it is noteworthy that Yowell wished first to foist this report upon the Constantinople correspondents of the "Chicago Tribune", the Associated Press and other well-known American publications, but the American newspaper men, knowing the report to be a malicious fabrication contrary to fact, did not accept it. Thereupon the report was sold to the Armenians, and by their agency was sent to the "Times" and there published. Americans who know Anatolia are unanimous in declaring these statements to be an utter lia. Among others Miss Blanks and I and MacDowell have seen for ourselves how magnanimous and generous and honourable the Turks are and our testimony to the truth is to be found in reports. Americans travelling in Anatolia and long resident there declare that they have always been well treated both by Government and people. That the Non-Muslims are maltreated by the Government of Anatolia, as published reports allege, and that such allegations are confirmed by the investigations of Americans is the reverse of truth, Yowell's published statement against the Anatolian Government as to fresh incidents and his attempt thereby to excite Western public opinion against Turkey is condemned by all Americans here who know the truth.

On May 14, Miss Blanks, a representative of the American Committee of Relief for the Near East in Anatolia after reading the allegations published in the "Times" sent the following telegram to Admiral Bristol, American High Commissioner in Constantinople.

ADMIRAL BRISTOL AMERICAN REPRESENTATIVE.

"I had heard of rumours being current in Stamboul concerning recent fighting at Kharput. I am in constant communication with Americans in Kharput. I have spoken with persons coming from that place on a certain date and am satisfied that the humours are untrue.

(Signed) FLORENCE BLANKS.

Also the head of the American Committee of Relief for the Near East in Angora Mr. Jakwit (?), expressed his opinion of the allegations in the "Times" to our correspondent, as follows: "The object of my coming to Angora is to continue the cordial and friendly collaboration of an American Commission which has been long working here with the Angora Government. I am very sorry for the publications of Mr. Yowell and his companions on this and similar occasions, since they are likely to cause misunderstanding between us and the Angora Government needlesly. While Mr. Yowell was in Anatolia he was my subordinate and under my influence; but since when he broke the well-known conditions of our stay in Anatolia and handed in his resignation, he spreads reports upon his own responsibility."

We have said enough to show how groundless and in bad faith are the allegations of Mr. Yowell and his companions. Lord Curzon's inclination towards these allegations and attempt to set up a Commission of Inquiry is an attempt to turn the present public opinion at Europe against Turkey. Curzon's ulterior object in so doing is transparent, it is to break off the present negotiations for peace with Turkey and to prevent the Americans from giving certain preferences and help to Turkey. Only, this time also, the fiction used to obtain his end is so childish that we think that France, Italy and America will give no credence to it. We hear with pleasure that America repels Lord Curzon's efforts to appoint a Commission to investigate these imaginary atrocities. All such enemy intrigues we have seen to be fruitless.

Angora May 22.—With reference to Lord Curzon's effort to set going an Inquiry in Anatolia' the National Government's Newspaper under the title "England and Ourselves," publishes an article in which the hopes and affection of Turkey for England before the War and since the Armistice are recalled, and says:—

However, from the Armistice onwards the Government of England never for a moment departed from the policy, even more and more open of destroying Turkey's independent and organized existence by any means. At the Peace Conferences, it was the English statesmen who put difficulties in our way and manifested a desire to ruin us and put an end to our existence. It is the English representatives who heaped every kind of wrong and insult on the Muslim population in Constantinople and assailed our lives, our property, our honour. Anyone who seeks the reason of this boundless enmity, finding no explanation, stands aghast. And this strange state of mind of the English this time also we find inexplicable. When all Europe even to a section of the English Press assumed a favourable and helpful attitude towards our treaty negociations at Ismid the English statesmen are at work to rouse up both the English people, and world opinion against us. We are exterminating the Christians in Anatolia. We are against Christianity. That is Lord Curzon's theme for a new comedy. In pursuance of this game, Lord Curzon has recourse to the following methods: according to a statement published by Mr. Row, Constantinople Correspondent of the "Chicago Tribune" Lord Curzon sometime ago sends a message to the British High Commissioner asking him to find a report that the Turks were exterminating the Christians. This report "to order" he does not use by itself. In fact, a little later other reports are found. A man named Yowell connected with the American Near East Relief Commission, with three companions, who six months before had been deported by the local Government on a charge of espionage and stirring up sedition, out of revenge and spite concoct certain allegations and try to get the American newspaper correspondents in Constantinople to publish the same. But by the evidence of the American Commercial Attache in Stamboul, the decent American newspaper men knowing the reports to be lies refuse to publish them. Then these forgers have recourse on one hand to the British High Commissionerate and, on the other, again on the evidence of Mr. Gillespie to the Armenians and succeed in getting their fabrications published in the "Times." Lord Curzon, predisposed in favour of these calumnies takes them and proceeds to make them known to the Western world.

INDIAN MEDICAL SERVICE.

PROTEST AGAINST DETERIORATION.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 23.

"The Times" publishes a leading article on a letter from Sir Patrick Hehir dealing with the danger of deterioration if not disruption of the Indian Medical service, owing to the uncertainty and proposed indianisation of the service and suggesting that it should be placed on the same footing as the army medical corps. "The Times" emphases that the decay of the medical service is bound to react on all other Indian services, for if the quality of the medical administration and treatment declines, white men will not risk the lives of their womenfolk in dependence on it. British rule in India has achieved miraculous results for the health of the country says "The Times", and those who have jeopardised this great boon to Indian fellow-subjects have incurred a responsibility, for which future generations will not lightly acquit them.

MR. COTTON ON THE PRESENT DISCONTENT.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—The appointment of Mr. H. E. A. Cotton as the President of the Bengal Legislative Council has caused considerable surprise, nay resentment, amongst the Co-operators of Bengal. Mr. Cotton is the son of Sir Henry Cotton, the famous Commissioner of Assam, who defied even Lord Curzon and upheld the righteous cause of Indians. Young Mr. Cotton was born in Bengal. He practised in Bengal for thirteen years. He was a Municipal Commissioner. And for eleven years (1906-17) he was the Editor of "India", London. It must be noted, that Sir Henry Cotton, as the author of "New India," gave ample testimony of his absolute sympathies with the rising tide of Indian Nationalism. In fact, he belonged to the advanced school of Indian politics. Is Mr. Cotton similarly built and bent? Let us see. If we analyse his article "On the Problem of Indian Discontent" in the April number of the "Contemporary Review", we shall glean the following:—Says he

(1) "Discontent in India is not dependent upon the existence or even upon the presence of Mr. Gandhi."

(2) "Rising prices and increasing taxation" are mainly accountable.

(3) Bankruptcy Budgets—Central and Provincial—and new imposts on Railway Post, Salt, Kerosine etc. will hit the poor.

(4) "Dyarchy has failed! "And it is associated with extravagance and stagnation"!

(5) Dyer Debate and Montagu's helplessness have shaken the faith of Moderates! And Montagu's resignation has deepened their distrust!

(6) Regarding Turkey, Britain is losing the goodwill of Islam and France is consolidating it!

To allay this growing discontent, Mr. Cotton urges two things:—

(a) "Rapid and comprehensive settlement of the Turkish question", which will regain Moslems' goodwill, and which will put out of action half of Mr. Gandhi's artillery! And

(b) That a deputation of the Joint Committee should come to India this cold weather, study the situation, and advise Parliament of any legitimate Revision, that should be made in respect of administration.

So far, so good. But let us go a step further and ascertain, what he has to say about the great Gandhiji and his great work:—

(1) "Mr. Gandhi, the erratic and incomprehensible individual, continues to fill the stage with his motley crowd of revolutionaries and reactionaries"!

(2) "The Crude nationalism of which it is composed is embedded in a mass of contradictions and absurdities"!

(3) "The alliance of Mr. Gandhi and the Ali Brothers is utterly unnatural and incongruous"! And

(4) "Accommodation with Mr. Gandhi is impossible"!

It is this Mr. Cotton, prejudiced, prepossessed, absolutely anti-Gandhi, and hence anti-non-cooperation, that is to be the President of the Bengal Legislative Council! And who are Mr. Cotton's friends, guides and philosophers?

(1) Sir Sankaran Nair!

(2) Mr. Srinivas Sastri!

(3) And Sir Dinshaw Wacha!

Do we not need self-purification? Let Mr. Cotton know, that his deliberate dislike, may definite misreading and hence defiant and hostile attitude towards the Gandhi movement will not hurt the nation. It will surely stand in his way on crucial occasions, and will disqualify him for independent and impartial investigation.—Yours, etc.,

BARJORJI FRAMJI BHARUCHA.

P. S.—Mr. Cotton is obviously inconsistent. He owns that Gandhiji is not the author of the present discontent; and yet he blames the saint for the existing unrest!

"A FUTILE AGITATION."

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—If we accept the argument in your article, "A Futile Agitation", in to-day's issue, that Sir Harcourt Butler's term of office should not be extended because of "Repression", then the entire body of British officials in India, from Lord Reading down to Sir George Lloyd, who laid the Ali Brothers and Mr. Gandhi by the heels, deserve even less favourable treatment than Sir Harcourt Butler.

I advised Mr. Gandhi last year, but without success, to adopt the methods of Mr. Facing-both-Ways or even of Mr. Ready-to-Halt.. I returned to India this year to find Mr. Gandhi no longer at large, but the traces of his campaign are seen all over India, and even in Bombay, where trade disorganisation and unemployment have created an acute situation.

I have every desire to be fair to Mr. Gandhi and the Swarajists, but they must see that the Non-Cooperation Campaign has almost wrecked India. The British Government cannot be blamed for not allowing complete disaster to overtake India. It must necessarily take time for the country to recover. Administrative reform during this period has been almost at a standstill and this provides an additional reason for supporting the movement in the United Provinces to give Sir Harcourt Butler an extension. It will enable him at least to give some shape to his policy for Oudh—with which he was associated in his earliest days—before he finally quits a province which owes much to his administrative zeal and energy.—Yours, etc.

INDIAN TERRITORIAL FORCE.

(Associated Press.)

TRICHINOPOLY, June 23.

The period of training of the Indian Territorial Force has been extended by two months. There are nearly 650 men under training under the command of Major Bremner. The next battalion will be formed at Cananore and Coorg.

TRAMWAY FARES.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—Your Leader on the Tramway Fares published on 20th June leaves little to be said on the point. The Present Municipal Commissioner shows a clear bias to favour the Company. Mr. Masani speaks of zones as if to suggest that the Tramway Company is charging an uniform rate of one anna for any distance. The fact is that from certain points to a place north of Lalbagh, the fare even at present is one anna and a half. We hope Mr. Masani will not bring the argument he brought in connection with the Gas Company and, if he does, will get the necessary lesson. He is showing the tendency to imitate La Belle France.

The year in which an application should not have been made by the Tramway Company to enhance fares is this. Trade is depressing and cost of living has to be brought down. In England we find the wages are being cut in every Industry. The cost of living is showing some decline though extremely slight, even in India. Every one of us knows that stationery is slightly cheaper and would have been much cheaper but for the powerful combines. Many other things must be cheaper than they were in 1920 and in the first half of 1921. These are circumstances showing the inadvisability of doing anything at present which will go against the current in favour of lowering the cost of living. The cry for economy and retrenchment and the appointment of the Incheape Committee point the way to the public-spirited cityfathers they ought to take viz., that they ought to put their feet heavy on any attempt of the Tramway Company to increase the cost of living.

But with business astuteness, the Company have hit upon this year to make the application, because if the application has any chance of success it is only this year. This year they have the advantage of citing the case of the enhanced Railway fares and of saying that on account of the Trade depression they cannot get funds without offering to the public the lure of higher dividends. The most important factor, however, is that the Company feel that they would succeed in securing the car of the present Corporation. If they fail with this Corporation, they are sure to fail before the next democratic Corporation. As if to precipitate matters, Tramway service is made particularly inefficient of recent.

Let the Corporators note the trend of public opinion. The public know that but for the truculent attitude of the last Corporation, this election would have been held on a wider franchise. The public have thus a grievance against the present Corporation. Let the Corporation not aggravate it by betraying the interests of the public. Let them not imitate the Government of India who rushed the Rowlatt Bill in a Council which was nearing its end when even its very constitution was in the melting pot, simply because the reformed body would surely not pass it. Government of India even had to yield and repeal the Rowlatt Act. The present Corporation will take a lesson from the disgrace the blessed Act brought to the Government of India and will "conduct itself in this matter with a due sense of public duty" and responsibility to those numerous clerks and teachers and shop-assistants who would have been at present represented and are sure to be hereafter represented on the Corporation.—Yours, etc.

P. R. LELE.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle."

Sir,—You appear to be rather sanguine that the corporators will refuse to follow the lead given by the Commissioner and object to sanction the raising of the Tramway fares. I have my doubts. Will any of your readers kindly tell me why the Tramway Co. issues, with a generosity worthy of a better cause, free passes to members of our Corporation? Dr. Nariman would have been well advised to have included these gentlemen in his proposal, but then, perhaps, there would have been only the empty chairs to discuss the matters yours &c.

"EGYPT" AND HER LASCARS.

To the Editor of "The Chronicle"

Sir,—After the searching enquiry and able analysis by Mr. Baptista, and your splendid article on the subject, little is left for me to write, save asking a few pertinent questions:—

(1) If the "Egypt" was experiencing dense fog, how was it, that only one officer, out of so many, was left on the watch?

(2) How was it, that "the Engines were at stop," when the ship came into collision with the French steamer Seine"?

(3)) How was it, that if the Egypt was in motion a vessel of 1,300 tons could so disable a steamer of 7,800 tons, as to sink her in 20 minutes?

(4) Were not the Officers responsible for minimising the damage and for losing the first ten precious minutes?

(5) How is it, that the local Agents, Messrs. Mackinson Mackenzie & Co. are observing absolute silence on the subject?

As regards Captain Carr, the "Daily Mirror" says that he belongs to the Indian Army and "he helped to calm an uproar on the Egypt." The "Miror," the "Sphere" and the "Illustrated London News" give pictures of the ship and the survivors. And the "Illustrated" says, that "inspite of the efforts of the Officers and crews, both of the Egypt and the Seine, nearly 100 lives were lost" will the P. and O. ope their lips? —Yours, etc.

MEMORIAL TO LATE MAHARAJA OF KOLHAPUR.

DEPUTATION TO THE GOVERNOR

On June 20th. at Government House, Ganeshkhind, His Excellency the Governor received a deputation, headed By H.H. the Maharaja of Dewas. On behalf of the deputation His Highness invited His Excellency to lay the foundation-stone of a memorial proposed to be erected in memory of His late Highness the Maharaja of Kolhapur.

His Excellency replied as follows:—

"Your Highness and gentlemen,—I am grateful to your Highness and to those who have accompanied you for the purpose of forming this deputation here to-day. An occasion such as this is indeed a sad one for us all: but it is a matter of great satisfaction to me that Your Highness and others are providing me with this opportunity of giving public testimony to the respect in which I held his late Highness and to the admiration which I have always felt for the devoted, courageous and self-sacrificing work which His Late Highness did for the improvement of the conditions of all the non-Brahman communities throughout India. Indeed, I feel it is of the greatest importance that others should follow in the footsteps of His late Highness and carry on the work for which he laboured so diligently. Any such work will, I asure you, if it is properly conceived and brought to successful fruition, receive not only the full support of my Government but also my own personal support. I, therefore, desire to express publicly, to-day, the very great sense of loss which my Government feels, and I personally feel, in the premature and sad death of His Late Highness. I have every hope that His present Highness will be able to carry on the work of His late Highness and care jealously for the interests of the State committed to his charge.

I shall feel honoured to lay the foundation-stone of this memorial. It is perhaps not necessary for me to ask Your Highness to inform me, in accordance with the usual custom, of the personal connected with the Memorial. to give me some assurance that the funds will be raised, and to let me know the full scope and nature of the proposed memorial. Your Highness has been good enough to have some conversation with me already on the matter, and I, therefore, only mention these points in passing.

I would conclude by thanking Your Highness and all those Princes and gentlemen who have accompanied you for the honour you have done me."

RETIRING CIVIL SERVANTS.

PROPORTIONATE PENSION SCHEME.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 22.

In the House of Commons to-day, in answer to Sir Charles Yate, Earl Winterton said that the gratuity admissible to officers retiring from the Civil Services in India under the proportional pension scheme, if they had not completed five years' pension qualifying period of service, was one month's pay at the rate drawn at the time of retirement, multiplied by the number of years on the Active Service completed. This was much less than the gratuity of eight hundred and fifty plus twenty-five sterling for each year of service admissible to the subalterns reduced from the Indian army establishment, but the circumstances provided for by the two schemes were quite different.

Sir C. Yate also asked about the desired alteration to leave the conditions laid down for the officers wishing to retire on proportionate pensions, which would not allow leave, even if due and earned, to be taken after 3rd March, 1924, unless the officer had previously notified his desire to retire and had both not enjoyed the leave after the date of the resolution and subsequent thereto had been refused leave.

Lord Winterton replied that Viscount Peel was considering the matter, and he asked Sir C. Yate to await a full statement which was impending.

FIRST ROUND.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 22.

At Scarborough, Patterson's match against Washer for the first round of the Davis Cup was noticeable for a rather weak backhand play of the victor, whose service was, however, greatly superior. Anderson-Watson match was much more interesting. The pladers went up to the net frequently and exhibited excellent strokes. Anderson, however, was generally cleverer than Belgian.

GOLF CHAMPIONSHIP.

(Reuter's Telegram.)

LONDON, June 22.

The first day's play for the Golf Championship at Sandwich was remarkable for the failure of Kirkwood, who was quite obscured by the performances of the British and the American competitors. The Australian played nervously, displaying only glimpses of his recent form. Walter Hagen, after an indifferent morning round, leads the field with an aggregate of 149. The next in order come:—

Duncan, Taylor and Barnes with 151
Hutchinson 153

Kirkwood was fourteenth with 155. The Americans were ...playing most confidently. Hagen's putting being uncanuily accurate. With Taylor and Duncan playing soundly however, the final stage promises to be a stern struggle of a distinctly international character.

WANTED CHANGE OF SYSTEM.

PANDITS ON TOURS.

Mr. Bajpai wires from Azamgarh under date June 22nd:—

Pandit Motilal Nehru left Allahabad on a short provincial tour at midnight on Tuesday. At the Benares Station where the train arrived at an early hour he was met by Sriyut Shivapodo Gupta and Sripakash, Professor Kriplani and other Congress workers, and had a conference with them at the waiting room for an hour. From Benares onwards there were large crowds present at various stations, at some of them they were briefly addressed by Panditji who advised them to adopt Khaddar more generally and promote Hindu Muslim Unity. He arrived at Ballia afternoon where a large crowd waited to receive him. He was taken in a procession to the Congress Office.

Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya joined him there.

Later in the evening a very successful meeting was held close to the city attended by about five thousand people. Inspiring addresses were delivered by Pandits Nehru and Malaviyji exhorting the people to carry out the constructive programme of the Congress. Each speaker referred to the circumstance that Ballia had suffered heavy repression while administered by the Indian officials which they ascribed to the irresponsible system of the Government, laid stress on the point that what was wanted was not larger employment of Indians under the present bureaucratic system but its replacement by a Government responsible to people. Pandit Nehru and Malaviji and Mr. Bajpai came to Azamgarh this morning.

MR. POLAK ON THE PRESENT SITUATION.

TROUBLE DUE TO MISUNDERSTANDING.

(Associated Press.)

ALLAHABAD, June 23.

Mr. H. S. L. Polak during an at home in Benares attended by Hon'ble Mr. Chintamoni and leading residents of the city addressed a gathering and said that the misunderstanding between England and India was due to their not knowing each other better and that if they could have been in closer touch during the last two years, many things that both the nations regretted would not have occurred and if well-intentioned people on both sides made up their minds definitely and positively to come together, it would be possible to do a great deal to clear away the misunderstanding that was poisoning their mutual relations at the present time. Speaking on the Kenya question, Mr. Polak said that it was the test of the sincerity of his own countrymen on the subject of equality of citizenship for Indians resident abroad. Mr. Polak emphasised that he was not making a political speech as he had come on a private visit.

THE HERBAL TONIC

Mr. C. J. Brown, the well-known taxidermist, of 42, Sherlock Street, Port Elizabeth, speaking of his indigestion said:—"The worst symptoms were loss of appetite, intense pains at the pit of the stomach, sleeplessness, a feeling of fulness after meals, and uncomfortable flushes of heat.

"I was gratified to find," he adds," that the first bottle of Mother Seigel's Syrup afforded me great relief, and my improvement continued so rapidly, that, by the time I had finished two bottles, I was completely restored to health. I invariably keep a bottle in the house for the use of my family and self, and often recommend it to my friends." Test it for yourself to-day!

HINDU-MOSLEM UNITY.

INDIA'S SALVATION.

Khadijah Begam Ferozuddin writes from Bannu to the "Tribune," Lahore:—

Hindu-Muslim unity is one of the stiffest problems India has to solve. Indians were never a nation and want of unity led them to be a prey to the ambition of every foreign invader. Unlike the other foreigners but following the Aryan model, the Muslims came and made India their home. Inspite of this fact it was natural that there should be no bond of union between the two parties—there was no belief in a common origin, no possession of common language and literature, no pride in a common historic traditions and no community of social customs and religion. That was only for the time. Since then all has changed. We have lived together, borrowed much from each other which has affectetd our every day life, our social customs and our language to a remarkable degree. Moreover in modern civilized countries some of the leading nations are of very mixed race and the knowledge of this mixture has no material effect in diminishing the consciousness of common nationality. The only criterion necessary for the formation of a nation is that the "people must have the feelings of belonging to one another." Let us apply this to our own country. It has been the political creed of many historians and it is the political creed of our revered leader. Indians have been a subject people because they failed to realize this idea practically. Professor Seeley says, "If the inhabitants of India could act together and were agreed in wanting independence they could get it." So you see, you have sold yourself into subjection deliberately My countrymen! Wake up! Come forward! Listen to the call of your selfless saviour. Religion must be instrumental in promoting love for humanity and should not be the sower of discord. You are Hindus or Muslims for your own souls. You are not Hindus for Muslims and Muslims for Hindus. Being a Muslim I can say nothing about Hindu religion, but I must point out that Islam is a religion, which teaches universal brotherhood. The Almighty Great Creator has no favourites and loves those who love Him and follow righteousness.

My dear sisters, have you forgotten how the Rajput ladies used to perform the awful rite of Jauhar? How these worthy ladies, the whole lot of them, used to throw themselves into the burning fire rather than fall into the hands of their enemies? Can you not at this time do this much as to bear the flag of your country and lend a helping hand to the men? Have you gone so low that the notion of liberty has become repugnant to you? Are you so much devoted to your silks and satins that you cannot give a passing thought to the sufferings of your countrymen in jail? Mind, it is better to be clothed in rags than to be clothed in shame. Follow the example of your forefathers. No study has so potent an influence in forming a nation's mind and character as the critical study of its past history. It is my deep-seated conviction that no fallen nation can rise again to greatness, unless her sons and daughters feel within them the life-beat of the truly great achievements of their forefathers. It is you, my honoured sisters, who will be the makers of India's destinies. It cannot be denied that men are the cause of our ignorance. But let us make them realise their mistake. Let us show them that we are not tmere chattels. Our fall has been India's fall, our rise will be India's rise. It has been the conservatism and ignoranee of my Hindu sisters which has been a great barrier in the way of Hindu-Muslim unity. They will please excuse me, as I do not mean to attack them. If you misunderstand me, then we must give up all hope of unity. Mistrust of each other has been our ruin. I wish I had not to apologise for what I have so frankly expressed—but for that time I must wait. Let us overlook each other's shortcomings and then we shall be able to realize the "Sense of belonging to other."

Lately there has been a great fuss made in the papers about the alleged favouritism shown by some of the prominent authorities to their co-religionists in the Punjab. I believe this kind of throwing dirt over each other is a blunder of the first magnitude from the political point of view. This attitude must be avoided. I am afraid the breach might be broadened between the two communities to the detriment of our motherland. What does it matter if the Hindus get the advantage or the Muslims? If you cannot bear this you do not deserve Swaraj. India will never be free and you are the culprits. Mahatma Gandhi has gone to jail. The flower of the country is in jail and for whom? For you and for their convictions. They have submitted themselves to every kind of suffering. They have sacrificed their all for your sake, and what have you given them in return? Mahatma Gandhi tells you to save your country from poverty and infuse harmony. But oh! how hard it is to wear khaddar. How difficult to throw off neckties, hats, nice apparels and beautiful silks though the country is the poorest in the world. What misery we would not look what we like to be? How can we eat from the hands of these Muslims say the Hindus. And why should we do things which might be useful to the Hindus speaks the other party.

It is hard, but overcome your narrow feelings. Read what other nations and countries have suffered to attain "Sweet liberty." Unito yourselves whether you are Hindus, Muslims, Christians or Sikhs with a heart full of pure love and never say "it affects the Hindus, only, it is for the Muslims or Christians only." I say it affects you all. If one arm is sore, is it possible the rest of the body would not suffer? Say what you like, but rest assured you cannot do without each other. Unity is strength. If you want to break down the shackles of slavery, you can only break them down by acting together. What shame! The nations of the world mock at you. You who were once the teachers of the world. You who were a model of truthfulness and honesty You who preached universal brotherhood. Some people tell me "after you have got Swaraj you will be at loggerheads." I always answer, there is no guarantee for peace. France was the most advanced country in the nineteenth century and yet when after the Franco-German war, it started the third Republic, what was the lot of its inhabitants? War of the commune ensued. During, "the Bloody Week" Paris suffered much more than she had from the bombardment of the Germans. Seventeen thousand men perished, forty three thousand had been arrested and three hundred, and fifty thousand denounced.

I express myself in these terms simply because the actual experience since the dismemberment of the Mughal Empire does not justify anticipation of any tangible improvement in the relations of the two communities. But bear in mind we have fallen, fallen very far from the high ideal which was once, ours. Yet Mahatma Gandhi has come to our rescue. He is like a God-send. He has lent a helping hand to his oppressed motherland. Let us be up, holding each other's hands and listen to his trumpet call of unity. Other patriots are straining every nerve and making every sacrifice to further the interest of Indian unity. India was the land of rishis and the world must expect something wonderful from their descendants, and you are capable of doing wonders. Unlike the nations of the West your political creed is non-violence because you do not like to use your physical might but your spiritual force. May this spirit deepen and grow in our midst for ever after! Let us show that Hindu-Muslim unity is not a farce, that it is not paraded for a political purpose only. Let us show that it proceeds from the heart. We are one. We are Indians and would not like to change that proud epithet for all the world. When you realize this perfectly, then and then only, my brethren, will your salvation come.

AMBER TIPS TEA.

THE FAVOURITE DRINK OF THE QUEEN CITY OF INDIA.

The generous response of the citizens of Bombay to our call for patronage has been so sincere, so whole hearted, and so incessant, that we are finding it very difficult to keep up with the demand.

AMBER TIPS

Has gained its immense popularity, not only because it is the greatest tea value in India, but because the loyal citizens of Bombay, have recognised, that in drinking it, they are advancing their Country's cause, to an incredible extent, by encouraging their weaker brothers to give up the habit of LIQUOR DRINKING, which is the greatest obstacle to the attainment of the national aspirations of EVERY PATRIOTIC INDIAN.

Market Steady.

PIECE-GOODS.

The tone of the Cloth Market has been quiet but steady during the past week. Buying has not been at a standstill and some transactions have resulted. A big lot of four hundred cases of 30 inches by 18 yards White Nainsooks, Ralli's No. 33044/330e8, 33099 and 35199 in seven qualities has been sold by a big merchant to four dealers in the bazaar at Rs. 3-4, Rs. 3-12, and Rs. 4 per piece respectively, which shows a reduction of ten annas per piece on the current rates and means a loss of about fifty per cent or say nearly three lakhs of rupees to the seller on this transaction, taking into consideration the charges incurred on the goods held in stock since a very long period. These buyers are now offering to resell the goods in small lots at a profit of two annas per piece. A lot of White Mulls No. 66665 in 50 inches by 20 yards has changed hands at Rs. 11-10-0 per piece. 33 inches by 20 yards White Shirtings have also been sold at Rs/ 9-10 per piece in small quantities. Gold End White Mulls in 39 inches by 20 yards have been quoted at Rs. 9-4 for goods on spot, but for forward deliveries sellers are willing to offer at Rs. 8-14-0, and some sales have resulted. Low quality Sacharilla Heading Mulls in 38, 43, 48 and 53 inches by 18 yards have declined to Rs. 6-8 per piece average. 26 inches by 18 yards low quality range of Nainsooks have been sold at Rs. 4-9-0 per piece. Grey Shirtings have been moving off in small quantities for the Malabar Coast, but there has been hardly any inquiry from the other consuming centres. Grey Jaconets have been purchased from hand to mouth, and prices have remained steady.

The progress of the monsoon has been keenly watched. The weather reports state that the monsoon has been vigorous in North East India and has strengthened in the Peninsula and is extending into Gujarat. Rainfal has been nearly general in Bengal, Chota Nagpur, Gujerat, Mysore and Madras.

The Manchester Market has been firm and steady, but with little doing. During the past two months, buyers have purchased freely and it seems that their immediate requirements have been satisfied. But makers have strengthened their positions and higher rates have been demanded. As merchants are not inclined to pay any advances on previous rates, business has not been practicable, and progress seems to be difficult. The rate of exchange is still unfavourable but there are hopes of improvement in the near future. After two years of negotiations an agreement, which will influence the cheapening of costs, has been reached between the Indian section of the Manchester Chamber of Commerce and the Federation of the Calico Printers under which the Manchester Merchants undertake to supply the printer with grey cloth against a definite date in return for which the printer undertakes to deliver the printed cloth to the merchant by a specified date. The Cotton Congress at Stockholm has passed a resolution declaring that forty-eight hour a week is economically unsound and detrimental to the best interests of the employers and the operatives and reaffirming the belief that arbitration is the best method of settling cotton contract disputes, and decided to appoint a sub-committee to draft rules applicable as far as possible to all the countries.

The Cloth Markets will be closed on Sunday next owing to Amwas holiday.

STOCK OF PIECEGOODS AND YARNS.

The list issued by the Bombay Chamber of Commerce indicates a stock of 17,021 bales and 24,842 cases of cotton piece-goods as on 31st May last, which shows a decrease of 1,116 bales and 2,870 cases compared with the figures of the previous month. The stock of Cotton Twist and Yarns on the 31st May last stands at 17,734 packages, which shows an increase of 657 packages as compared with the previous month. The approximate total deliveries during May last have been 10,514 packages of cotton piecegoods and 10,168 packages of yarns. The imports during May 1922 of cotton piecegoods have been 6,528 packages, and of cotton twist and yarns 10,825 packages including those from Japan.

YARN MARKET.

June 23.

A distinctly better tone has prevailed in our market during this week and there has been steady improvement noticeable all round. Inquiries have been pouring in from all centres, but buyers are still hesitating to effect their purchases at any advanced rates, whereas sellers are firm and show no inclination to sell at any reduced price. Raw cotton has advanced with a strong undertone and bullish advices from Liverpool and New York.

English yarns have been moving well and spot clearances indicate better feeling. 2/40s experience good demand and ready as well as to arrive is being sold at better rates. 30s, 31s, 32s and 40s also experience good inquiry through 60s is still neglected. Mercerised 2/84 is quiet and 2/64 is scarce. Fresh forward business is still small owing to higher quotations from Manchester.

Japanese yarns have also advanced by ¼ to ½ anna per lb. though 40s is comparatively quiet. Offers from Japan are unworkable and no fresh business is reported.

Indian yarns have experienced steady advance, especially in 6½s, 8½s, 10½s and 12½s; 16½s, 20s and higher counts are neglected. A good lot of 6½s has been sold for Calcutta and 10½s for Rangoon and other centres. China demand has slightly improved and about four thousand bales of 10s and 12s have been purchased by Shippers during this week. Mills as a rule are not keen sellers and bazar dealers want comparatively cheaper. Hence local business with the mills has been on a small scale.

All the circumstances still go to show that the trade outlook is hopeful and there should be gradual improvement all round in due course.

FINANCE.

Conditions in the money market are easy. Call money rate is about 3½ per cent to 4 per cent. It is generally expected that there may be some demand for money about the end of the month on account of the half-year closing, but July will see very easy money market. The loan in London of the Government of India was a partial failure, but one need not be pessimistic about our Rupee loan, as the terms are very favourable, and we confidently expect a great response from the general public as it is one of the safest investments that can be had in these troubled days.

Exchange was a steady market both here and in Calcutta round 1/3 9/16. A fair amount of exchange was bought for bullion imports, on the other hand, there were Yen bills showing in this market and some bills in Calcutta also. The undertone of the market is steady

Gold opened firm following the decline American exchange to dol. 4.37, but soon dropped to Rs. 27/5 on the cross rate improving to dol. 4.45½. The stock is large at about seven lakhs tolas and off-take has declined to about 17,000 tolas a day.

Silver moved within narrow limits. China was not a large operator and the volume of business in the market was limited. The stock is about 3500 bars and the off-take about 40 bars a day (foreign silver).

The Shanghai/London rate was 3/6¼ per tael, Hongkong/London 2/7 per dollar.

SHARES.

The market was steady to rfim with large business passing in cotton mill shares. The bull syndicates entered the market with redoubled vigour on favourable monsoon reports, and there was heavy covering by bears. It is reported that the syndicates unloaded part of their holdings during the later part of the week. The attention of the market was focussed round Currims, Davids, Simplex and New Great. In other scrips there was some rise, but not worth mentioning. Nagpurs and Swadeshis are stalemate, both the "bulls" and "bears" are playing a waiting game.

It is a great tussle, never experienced before in the history of the stock exchange, and none dare forecast the result, although we sincerely think that it is an ill wind that blows which does no one any good.

We will suggest that there should be an amicable compromise and this is feasible only if both the sides follow the principle of "Give and Take."

In the miscellaneous shares, Tata Deferreds were steady on speculative buying, and the market closes at Rs. 312/8. Bank shares were steady, Imperial Banks round Rs. 1425 and Tata Banks round Rs. 16/12.

Dame rumour has it that the new bazar which was closed a few months back, is now being reorganised and it is likely that they will begin trade early next month. We hope that it will be worked on sound lines and will not encourage huge speculative syndicates.

We understand that the following resolution has been passed by the managing committe of the Bombay Stock Exchange:—

"There shall be no transaction in Currimbhoy, David and Kohinoor Mill shares over the prices mentioned hereunder for July, and August settlements up to 30th June 1922. After the 30th June i.e., from the 2nd of July members may deal in these shares for August settlement at their own risk. Those who wish to cover their sales and do not get the shares at the prices noted below, shall apply in writing to the Secretary on the 1st July 1922 so that they can cover the sales in auction and give the rates on adjustment day which will be fixed by the Board.

HOME MARKETS.

June 23.

During the week under review Home markets show sharp advance both in Liverpool and New York. In the beginning the markets were little easier on reports of crop accounts more favourable, but improved later on, on buying due to private reports of further rains and unfavourable weather, and good trade demand. For the near future much will, of course, depend on the weather, but even with an improvement in this we think prices would remain steady. We think it advisable to make purchases on any material decline. The immediate future of our market will depend largely on what the American markets do, and they in turn are dependent on the weather conditions on that side. Even with reports of better weather there, we see no likelihood of any material decline on that side.

The demand for ready cotton continued during the week. There was a fairly good inquiry from Japan Shippers and Millwalas for real nice lots and about 30,000 bales are reported to have been sold during the week.

The following were the changes in the Home markets as compared with last week:—

Free Life Readings

To All Who Write at Once

The well-known European Astrologer, Professor Roxroy, has once more decided to favour the people of this country with Free Test Readings of their lives from his office in Holland.

Prof. Roxroy's fame is so well-known in this country that he hardly needs an introduction from us. His power to read the lives of people, no matter at what distance they may be is described as simply marvellous.

In August 1913 he clearly predicted the Great War, and informed all his clients that "a bereavement in Europe in Royal circles will affect most of the Crowned heads Even Astrologers of various nationalities and reputation all over the world acknowledge him to be these master, and follow in his footsteps. He tells you what you are capable of, and how you can be successful. He mentions your friends and enemies, and describes the good and bad periods in your life. His description as to past, present and future events will astonish and help you.

Baroness Blanquet, one of the most talented ladies of Paris, says:

"I thank you for my Complete Life Reading, which is really of extraordinary accuracy. I had already consulted several Astrologers, but never before have I been answered with so much truth, or received such complete satisfaction. With sincere pleasure I will recommend you and make your marvellous science known to my friends and acquaintances."

If you want to take advantage of this special offer and obtain a review of your life, mention the name of this paper and get a Trial Reading free. Money not necessary. Simply send your full name and address (written by yourself) the date, month, year and place of your birth, and state whether Mr. Mrs. or Miss.

If you wish you may enclose 8 annas (In stamps of your own country) to pay postage and clerical work. Do not enclose coins in your letter. Send your letter to ROXROY, Dept. 1001 C. No. 42, Emmastraar, The Hague, Holland. Postage to Holland 3 annas.

"WERE THEY CRIMES?"

ALLAHABAD PICKETING CASE.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—Your leading article appearing in the issue of the 8th June on the Allahabad picketing case in which Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru and others were convicated, some mis-statements have crept in. The money collected from the defaulting cloth merchants was not collected or administered by the Local Congress Committee. Nor was the money any part of the Tilak Swaraj Fund. The money was collected by the Vyapari-Mandal, an organistion of the cloth dealers themselves, and it was disposed of according to their direction. The Town Congress Committee never claimed the right of spending this money. The money so collected last year was sent at the request of the merchants to the Malabar Relief Fund. This year's collections are, I believe, still lying at the disposal of the Vyapari-Mandal.

I am sending a copy of Pt. Jawahar Lal Nehru's statement before the court. This will give you the relevant facts.—Yours, etc,

HARKARAM NATH MISRA,
General Secretary,
U. P. Provincial Congress Committee.
107, Hewett Road, ALLAHABAD.

STATEMENT OF PANDIT J. NEHRU.

The following is the statement referred to above:—

"I am making this statement not in order to defend myself against the various charges brought against me but to define my position and to state the motives which have induced me to act in the manner I have done. I have refused to plead guilty or not guilty and I have declined to participate in this trial by cross-examination of witnesses or otherwise. I have done so because I do not recognise this court as a court where justice is administered. I mean no disrespect to the presiding officer when I say that so far as political offences are concerned the courts in India merely register the decrees of the executive. They are being used to-day even more than ever before to prop up the fabric of a Government which has mis-governed India long enough and which has to resort to these tactics now in an attempt to restore a prestige which is gone far ever.

I stand here charged with criminal intimidation and abetment of an attempt to extort. The warrant of my arrest bears also the familiar section 124A although I am not being tried for it to-day, I propose however to make a comprehensive statement, I cannot divide myself up into various compartments one for Picketing, another for sedition and yet another perhaps for volunteering. All my activities have but one end in view and that end I have striven to attain with all the strength and energy that is in me.

Less than ten years ago I returned from England after a lengthy stay there. I had passed through the usual course of public school and university, I had imbibed most of the prejudices of Harrow and Cambridge and in my likes and dislikes I was perhaps more an Englishman than an Indian. I looked upon the world almost from an Englishman's standpoint. And so I returned to India as much prejudiced in favour of England and the English as it was possible for an Indian to be.

To-day, ten years later, I stand here in the dock charged with two offences and with a third hovering in the back ground. An ex-conivict who has been to jail once already for a political offence, and a rebel against the present system of Government in India. That is the change which the years have wrought in me.

It is not necessary for me to recite the reasons for this change. Every Indian knows them; every Indian has felt them and has hung his head in shame for them. And if he has retained a spark of the old fire in him, he has taken a solemn pledge to strive unceasingly for India's freedom, so that his countrymen may never again be subjected to the miseries and humiliations that are the lot of a subject people. To-day sedition against the present Government in India has become the creed of the Indian people, to preach and practise disaffection against the evil which it represents has become their chief occupation.

I am charged with criminal intimidation and attempted extortion. I have wondered if these charges were seriously meant. The sections of the Code which have been applied bear no relation to the facts even as disclosed by the prosecution evidence. I presume that the signal success that has attended our efforts in Allahabad has induced the authorities to take some action against the picketers. If peaceful picketing for a lawful object is a crime then indeed I am guilty of having advised it and helped in it. But I have yet to learn that peaceful picketing has become an offence even under the laws of British India. Our object in picketing was to make the cloth dealers adhere to the pledges they had jointly taken. Does anyone believe that we could achieve success in this by criminal intimidation and extortion? All the world knows that our strength lies in the support of our people and the goodwill of our countrymen. Our weapons are not the old time ones of force and coercion. The weapons which our great leader has put in our hands are those of love and self-sacrifice. We suffer ouselves and, by our suffering seek to convert our adversary.

Criminal intimidation involves a threat of injury to a person or his property, and injury denotes harm "illegally" caused. So also extortion must include the putting of any person in fear of "injury" and there by "dishonestly" inducing him to part with property. I have listened to the prosecution evidence with interest in order to find out on what ground these novel charges are based. What was the injury to any person or property, that was threatened? What was the harm 'illegally' caused? Where in lay the dishonesty of any of us? I have not heard a single allegation yet made, much less proved, which suggests that we have caused injury to any person or property, caused any harm illegally or acted dishonestly. Not a single prosecution witness, including the police and the C.I.D. has made such an allegation. In the whole of Allahabad there was found no person of the thousands who must have witnessed the picketing who could bring the charge of any intimidation against us, or even a harsh word uttered by one of our picketers. No greater proof of our triumph can be given than this unsought testimony of the police and the C.I.D. Our picketing has been, I make bold to say, a model of its kind, perfectly peaceful, perfectly courteous relying on entreaties and exhortations and not even hinting at any force or intimidation. The cloth-dealers, who are alleged to have been intimidated by us are presumably the aggrieved party. But not one of them has complained.

Ten months ago, the cloth-dealers of Allahabad took a solemn pledge to refrain from purchasing foreign cloth till the end of 1922. All the signatories to the pledge, and they included almost every cloth-merchant in the city, constituted themselves into an association styled the "Vyapari mandal" and elected office bearers and a committee. The first business of the "mandal" was to lay down that every member who broke his pledge and purchased foreign cloth would have to pay a certain penalty and in case he refused to do this, picketing would be resorted to. The committee of the "mandal" was to determine in each individual case how much foreign cloth had been bought and what the penalty was to be. On several occasions during the past year the "mandal" committee considered such breaches of the pledge and imposed and recovered fines in accordance with their rules. Occasionally at their request picketing was also resorted to. Two months ago a large quantity of foreign cloth was purchased by some of the cloth-dealers in Allahabad. This was in contravention of the pledge and the shops of some of these cloth-dealers were picketed. Later a committee of the "Vyapari mandal," newly reconstituted, assessed the fines on the merchants who had broken their pledges and themselves collected this money, which lies at the disposal of the mandal. To the best of my knowledge two of the gentlemen who have given evidence for the prosecution in this case are members of the committee of the mandal, and as such they must have themselves helped in the assessment and collection of the fines. These are the facts relating to picketing in Allahabad. It is clear beyond doubt that there was neither any intimidation nor any attempt at extortion. The present prosecution is really an attempt to suppress lawful and peaceful picketing under cover of charges of intimidation and extortion. picketing has been going on all over India for many months. It has taken place in many cities and bazars in the provinces. Here in this very city of Allahabad we have repeatedly resorted to it. And yet Government took no action against it as such. They knew well that in India as in England peaceful picketing is no crime. Of course, it is open to them by a stroke of the pen to make even peaceful picketing illegal. But whether they do so or not we shall not give it up. To entreat, and exhort and advise others to follow a certain line of action or to abstain from doing something is a right which we will not abandon, whatever the Government may do. We have few rights and privileges left in this country and even these are sought to be taken away. We have shown to the world how we value the right of free association, and we have continued our volunteers in spite of thousands of arrests and all Government notifications to the contrary We will not and we cannot submit to any restriction of our right of free speech. A quarter of a century ago, a great English judge stated in the House of Lords with reference to this right free speech "A man has right to say what he pleases, to induce, to exhort, to command, provided he does not slander or deceive or commit any other of the wrongs known to the law of which speech may be the medium. Unless he is thus shown to have abused his right way is he to be called upon to excuse or justify himself because his words a may interfere with some one else and his callings." This right of free speech we shall cling to, whatever the cost.

I am glad for many reasons that I am being tried for picketing. My trial will bring the question of the boycott of foreign cloth even more to the front and I am confident that when the people of Allahabad and the province realise the full significance of this boycott, they will discard all foreign cloth, treat it as unholy and the touch of it almost as a pollution. If they pondered over the evils and the misery and the poverty that foreign cloth has brought to this long-suffering country, perhaps they would feel some of the horror I feel at the thought of wearing it. They will not bring forth arguments that old clothes have to be worn out or that festivities require fine clothing. They would know that the salvation of India and of her hungry millions demanded on the use of the charkha and the wearing of khaddar, and they would cast out all foreign cloths and consign them to the flames, or to the dustbin. I pray that the cloth-merchants of Allahabad will adhere to their sacred pledges twice taken, and do their utmost to bring about a complete boycott of foreign cloth in this ancient and holy city. Some of these cloth-dealers have given evidence for the prosecution in this case. I have no grievance against them. I shall suffer most gladly any imprisonment that may be awarded me if I know that thereby I have touched their hearts and won them over to the great cause. And I would appeal to the public of this city and province and earnestly request them to do this much for their country-wear khaddar and ply the charkha.

My co-accused and I are charged with intimidation and extortion. I should like the police and Government officials to examine their own consciences, to search deep down into their hearts and say what many of them have done during the past year and a half. Intimidation and terrorism, bribery and extortion have been going on over the length and breadth of the Province. And the persons guilty of them have not been Congressmen or our volunteers but the underlings of Government who have indulged in them frequently with the knowledge and approval and their superiors. Yet they are not tried or punished. They are patted on the back and praised and promoted.

My colleagues and I have seen and personally investigated acts of terrorism and inhumanity. We have seen how men and women have been subjected to the uttermost humiliation. We have seen how terror reigns in Sitapur. We have investigated the brutalities of Shoratganj and we know how hundreds of Ballia's gallant workers have been sent to jail for the sole offence of being Congress office-bearers or other principal workers of the Congress. And the poor down-trodden kisans with the hunted hopeless look in their eyes. Working away like the beasts of the field from morning to night-fall, so that others may enjoy the fruits of their labour, we have seen them harassed and made utterly miserable till life became almost too heavy to be borne. I need not refer to individual districts. Almost every one of them has the same sad and splendid tale to tell.

Intimidation and terrorism have become the chief instruments of Government. By these methods they seek to keep down a people and to suppress their disaffection. Do they imagine that they will thus instil affection for themselves in the people or make them loyal instruments of their imperialism? Affection and loyalty are of the heart. They cannot be purchased in the market place much less can they be extorted at the point of the bayonet. Loyalty is a fine thing. But in India some words have lost their meaning and loyalty has come to be almost a synonym for treason to the motherland, and a loyalist is he who is not loyal to his god or his country but merely hangs on to the coat-tails of his alien master. To-day however we have rescued the world from the depths and in almost every jail in India will be found true loyalists who have put their cause and their faith and their country above everything else and have been true to them despite all consequences. To them has come the great call, they have seen the vision of freedom and they will not rest or turn away till they have achieved their heart's desire. England is a mighty country with her armies and her navies but to day she is confronted with something that is mightier. Her armies and her navies have to face the suffering and the self-sacrifice of a nation determined to be free, and no men can doubt what the issue of such a struggle must be. We are fighting for our freedom, for the freedom of our country and faith. We disire to injure no nation or people. We wish to have no dominion over others. But we must be perfectly free in our own country. England has cruelly wronged us during the past 150 years or more. And even yet she has not repented, and mended her ways. India gave her a chance a year and a half ago but in the pride and arrogance of her physical might she has not taken it. The people of India have tried her and they have passed judgment and from that decree there is no turning back. India will be free; of that there is no doubt, but if England seeks the friendship of a free India she must repent and purge herself of her many sins, so that she may be worthy of a place in the coming order of things.

I shall go to jail again most willingly and joyfully. Jail has indeed become a heaven for us, a holy place of pilgrimage since our saintly and beloved leaders was sentenced. Big bodied, great-hearted Shaukat Ali, bravest of the brave, and his gallant brother are there and so are thousands of our co-workers. One feels almost lonely outside the jail, and selfishness prompts a quick return, Perhaps I shall be awarded a long term of imprisonment this time. Whether this is so or not, I shall go with the conviction that I shall come out to greet Swaraj in India.

I have said many hard things about the British Government. For one thing however I must offer it my grateful thanks. It has given us a chance of fighting in this most glorious of struggles. Surely few people have had such an opportunity given them. And the greater our suffering, the more difficult the test we have to pass, the more splendid will be the future of India, India has not survived through thousands of years to go down now. India has not sent her noblest and best, twenty-five thousand of her sons, to the jails to give up the struggle. India's future is assured. Some of us, men and women of little faith, doubt and hesitate occasionally. But those who have vision can almost see the glory that is to be India.

I marvel at my good fortune. To serve India in the battle of freedom is honour enough. To serve her under a leader like Mahatma Gandhi is doubly fortunate. But to suffer for the dear country: What greater good fortune could befall on an Indian unless it be death for the cause or the full realisation of our glorious dream."

REMAKING OF EUROPE.

SIR F. WHYTE'S LECTURE.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

SIMLA, June 23.

Sir Frederick Whyte, President of the Legislative Assembly, delivered last night an interesting lecture on the remaking of Europe. While all nations had in common economic difficulties awaiting solution, the real problem of the remaking of Europe was, he said, was the remarking of Russia and the Little Entente which had sprung upon the ruins of the Empire of Austria-Hungary. The solution lay in politicians understanding the unity of civilisation as something above the old conceptions of national sovereignty and tackling the problem of reconstruction through an international organisation like the League of Nations.

The New Model Hudson Super-Six

Makes Driving Easier.

Over 110,000 owners know that the exclusive Super Six motor is responsible for the smoothness and ease of operation of the Hudson. The new 1922 model makes driving easier--and brings increased economy with a minimum of maintenance cost.

It is the result of the one great underlying principle-dependablity-upon wnich the Hudson building policy has been founded.

Each year has seen improvement in the Super-Six--a continued refinement toward the building of a better Car. Each year its dependability and worth, its comfort, ease of operation and economy, its all-round beauty and distinction, is attested to by Hudson owners everywhere.

Ask us for a demonstration. Then note the price of the Hudson Super-Six, and you will be convinced that better value does not exist in THE VERY SPECIAL AND MORE EXPENSIVE CAR FIELD.

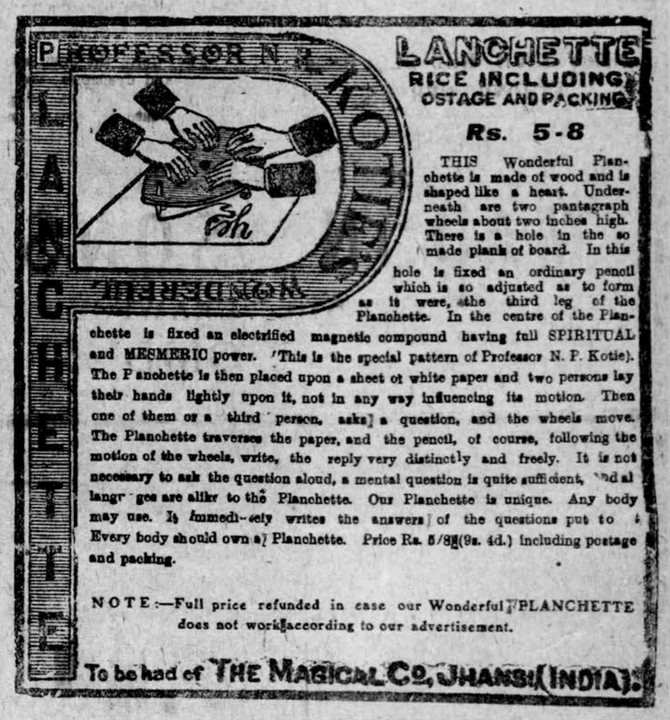
Miracle of Spiritualism



PROFESSOR N. P. KOTIE'S
WONDERFUL
PLANCHETTE
LANCHETTE
RICE INCLUDING POSTAGE AND PACKING
Rs. 5-8
THIS Wonderful Planchette is made of wood and is shaped like a heart. Underneath are two pantagraph wheels about two inches high. There is a hole in the so made plank of board. In this hole is fixed an ordinary pencil which is so adjusted as to form as it were, athe third leg of the Planchette. In the centre of the Planchette is fixed an electrified magnetic compound having full SPIRITUAL and MESMERIC power. (This is the special pattern of Professor N. P. Kotie). The Planchette is then placed upon a sheet of white paper and two persons lay their hands lightly upon it, not in any way influencing its motion. Then one of them or a third person, asks a question, and the wheels move. The Planchette traverses the paper, and the pencil, of course, following the motion of the wheels, write, the reply very distinctly and freely. It is not necessary to ask the question aloud, a mental question is quite sufficient, and all langu ges are alike to the Planchette. Our Planchette is unique. Any body may use. It immediately writes the answers of the questions put to it. Every body should own a Planchette. Price Rs. 5/8 (9s. 4d.) including postage and packing.
NOTE:—Full price refunded in case our Wonderful PLANCHETTE does not work according to our advertisement.
To be had of THE MAGICAL Co, JHANSI (INDIA).
FULL PRICE REFUNDED IN CASE OF FAILURE.

Now is the time to test our Wonderful PLANCHETTE

REMARKABLE PRESS OPINION.

The "H' Kesari," Volume II. No. 20. Thursday, October 26, :—We have received a wonderful Planchette from Prof. Kotie for Review. Really it is a wonderful pattern of prof. Kotie's invention. We are very much pleased to see its wonders. A person puts a question mentally or verbally and the Planchette moves on the paper and writes the answer neatly. Questions regarding the Past, the Present, and the Future may be put and answers obtained in any language. Anybody may send for this Planchette from the Magical Co., Jhansi, and see the wonders."

A FEW TESTIMONIALS MORE.

M. Simon Esq., of Messrs. Brown & Co., Ltd., writes from Hatton (Ceylon) on the 15th Sept 1921:—I got one of your Planchettes from a friend of mine who came here from India. I can say the it is a very wonderful thing. During my entertainments I am in success every time with your Planchette."

I. B. Honnavarkar, Esq., of the Eastern Bank Ltd., writes from Bombay on the 23rd September 1921 :—I am glad to inform you that I am successful in getting answers from the Planchette that I bought from you recently."

Messrs.The Dunlop Rubber Co.Ltd.,

Dear Sirs, J.Carey Esq.,

On the 25th June 1920, I took delivery of a new 11·9 "Calcott" Car, fitted with your Magnum Tyres.

The original tyres are still on the front wheels, having done a little over 15,000 miles in that time. They have never punctured, or been removed from the rims and, although they look good for a considerable further mileage, I am thinking of taking them off to put on new ones, as a matter of safety.

The back tyres were taken off at a little over 10,000 miles, not because of any trouble, because they, also, had never punctured, but to put on a pair of other Covers, which I was anxious to test, and I am still retaining the old Dunlops as spares.

I thought these figures would interest you.

Yours faithfully,
W.A. Vincent
Director.
